

Moving or Opening a New Office? IPiphany handles your communication systems problem free

Better, Cheaper Ways to Communicate at Your New Location

Whether you are expanding your business or downsizing in a new office, IPiphany will find the voice and data technology for exactly what you need. Your current system might not have all of the features you will need or is just outdated. Do you need to have phone and data systems that will accommodate telecommuters? We know the technology available and will give you the best and cheapest alternatives.

On Time, Easy to Switch

IPiphany's structured implementation process is based on years of experience and professional project management that provides a smooth transition between systems. We carefully plan out all installations and set realistic expectations with our clients to insure an on time and easy installation.

Get Us Involved At Any Point in the Process

Whether you are moving offices in a year or in a month, now is the right time to get IPiphany involved. Planning ahead is always better but in some circumstances we are able to get a new phone system running in 10 business days. Whatever the timeframe, we will guide you through the installation process to identify options and features that will accommodate the needs in the new location.

Solutions

Ipiphany specializes in Voice over IP (VoIP) solutions that allow you to easily connect remote offices together, save significantly on communications costs, put your entire company on the same phone system and centrally manage all moves, adds and changes through a web browser.
